

Call for Papers and Participation First Annual Symposium on Behavioral Economics and Finance

September 25-26, 2008; Las Vegas, Nevada

Since its first conference in 1989, The Academy of Entrepreneurial Finance, AEF, continues to offer a dedicated forum for exchange of research ideas related to the ever-growing field of entrepreneurial and small business finance. Given the central role of the small and medium enterprise, SME, in a free economy, the objective of the conference is to encourage research and inquiry in the very promising discipline. Although the focus of the annual event is on the financial, economic, and accounting aspects of the small firm, papers in closely-related areas will also be considered for presentation. Among the most relevant areas is the field of Behavioral Finance which is the subject of this very first Symposium on the topic. Naturally, all research on applied business, finance, and economics is also encouraged. AEF's key areas of interest include:

1. Corporate Finance Issues relevant to Small/Entrepreneurial Firms;
2. Behavioral Finance- especially issues related Risk-taking and Startups;
3. Business Valuation- and Evaluation;
4. Initial Public Offerings;
5. The Market for Formal and Informal Venture Capital;
6. Financial Institutions and Small Business Financing;
7. Innovations in Capital Markets for small and medium enterprises- SMEs;
8. Economics and Accounting of Small Business;
9. Models for Predicting Small Firm Success and/or Failure; and
10. Other related issues- including Globalization and Technological factors affecting Capital Access and Startup Process.
